

Plan Policy – JN Value Betting

Responsibilities of Subscribers

Subscribers to any JN Value Betting service MUST be over 18 years of age.

Available Subscriptions

The following JN Value Betting - Player Card Selections memberships are available by subscription at the stated prices:-

Monthly full membership – £9.99

Six monthly full membership – £54.99

Yearly full membership – £99.99

JN Value Betting reserves the right from time to time to post promotional offers for any particular service.

Cancellation Policy

Subscriptions can be cancelled at any time. However, no refund shall be provided for any past payments.

Payments

We currently only accept payment via Credit/Debit Card and PayPal.

All our membership plans are set up on a recurring basis dependant on the membership option chosen. All members have full access to their subscription details via their account.

Members are in full control of their subscription and can cancel the subscription at any time by cancelling via their account.

Any cancelled subscription will remain as pending cancellation until the next payment due date and the member will have full access to JN Value Betting - Player Card Selections until this date.

Service Description

The service we provide is a value player card selection service, which have been run through our value selection model.

You will receive an email shortly after completing your subscription and will have instant access to the subscriber area on the site.

Subscribers will receive access to a 'subscribers only' area of jnvaluebetting.com where they will find all player card value model selections.

Limit on Liabilities

JN Value Betting takes no responsibility for, and accepts no liability for any losses that incurred by subscribers following the use of our data and selections. Betting by nature is a volatile investment and participants will experience losing as well as winning.

Intellectual Property

By subscribing to our services, customers agree that the information we provide is confidential and for their sole use only. Any person found to be passing on this information is liable to have legal action taken against them.